company. During the drive we were kept working with very little relief due to a shortage of men in our company and the wounded coming in a steady stream. Enemy planes came over every day so all our work was done with out lights. during the drive the Evacuation hospital next to us was shelled and our ambulances were sent out and the wounded moved to our hospital. Another time one of our buildings caught fire and our men checked it before the patients were alarmed. for this we received a letter of thanks from our commanding officer Col. Baker. Exec. Hap so we received three special letters from Head Quarters for their work during the drive. After the Armistice we were sent to Coblenz Germany and took over a large Germany Hospital I was detailed as electrician until my return home
