While aboard U. S. S. Jeannette Skinner, made one trip via Gibraltar, to southern coast of France. On return home, touched at Gibraltar and Azore Islands. On this trip, first transatlantic seaplane, N. C. - 4 passed directly over ship in its flight. We were at the time about 75 miles from Azore Islands. I have several snapshots of the N. C. - 4. Two taken while passing over the U. S. S. Jeannette Skinner at sea and others taken after the plane had made its second landing in the harbor at Ponta del Gorda, San Miguel, Azores.

I am a member of the Naval Auxiliary Reserve Post (Joseph Hodges Choate Post) No. 16 American Legion, 30 West 44th St. N. Y. C.
